My heart aches with hearing of the passing of him. Won't say how I met him but tall and quiet and reached out for hug from me everytime I saw him which I gladly give tightly. Everyone struggles with battles in life but this guy really stood out to me wanting to make it. May God hold him in in his arms and his whole family as my prayers go out to all of you.

Oh. Jackie, I just saw this! I am so, so, very sorry. I know there's nothing anyone can say, trust in God. He is the only way through this profound and deep loss. I'll be praying for you. Call me if you need, Kim Cox 210-862-9758. I'm still in Texas but I'll be moving to Hot Springs in September. Let's get together for lunch then. You still have my greatest love and admiration after all these years. Stay strong and stay with God. My deepest condolences, the Cox family. May Michael Rest In Peace. Amen.

To my father, even though your not here with me and you can't see this I just want you to know I love you more than anything ! there isn't a day I don't think of you. before you passed I said some pretty harsh things and I never got to say sorry. I didn't mean it and everyday I think that if I wouldn't of said those things and wished for another dad that you would still be here with me holding Me in your arms. I started middle school things did start off rough. I got suspended at least once a month and I was even sent to an alternative school. The truth is I'm not a bad kid I was just mad at myself and mad at the world because somebody so special to me is now gone. Im 14 now last year of middle school and I now realize you wouldnt like seeing me being in trouble all the time. I wrote a poem about you for a project. I know you were watching over me when I read it and I meant every word. Im gonna become the young lady that I wanna be and what you wanted me to be. Khaylynn she isn't really in my life right now but I still love her as well . that's my sister and I'll always look out for her. Rheagan is living with momma and she is having a child soon! Im gonna prove to you I'm capable of anything, I will be the first to go to college I will become a police officer to not only make myself proud of me but to also make you proud of me. Before you left you were doing great and I know you were trying for me and my sisters, I know you wanted the best for me and you didn't want me to live the life you did, and I wont because that what you would want. I will celebrate your life as long as I stand, rest in peace Amen. - Khenedi Fourroux
